

Letter of Recommendation for applications submitted to the Doctoral College “Environmental Informatics” of the Vienna University of Technology.

General Information

The Doctoral College “Environmental Informatics” is an international PhD College. Students for this full-time program are recruited world-wide and all courses are held in English. Decisions about which students will be selected for the Doctoral College are made by a selection committee, consisting of faculty members, participating in the Doctoral College.

Selected students will be employed by the Vienna University of Technology and receive a salary including social benefits. We in particular encourage the application of female students.

The Doctoral College Committee would like to thank everybody who meets an applicant's request for a recommendation letter to accompany his/her application. These letters, along with certificates documenting the applicant's academic achievements, form an important decision-making basis for the Committee.

Please use this template for your recommendation letter. You may use as much space as needed for answering the questions.
